

EFP WRITING 10 (2 credits)

Description

EFP Writing 10 is designed for students who are interested in writing for a variety of purposes and contexts. This area of choice provides students with opportunities to become better writers through the exploration of personal and cultural identities, memories, stories, and connections to land/place. Within a supportive community, students will work individually and collaboratively to develop their writing skills and create coherent, purposeful, and engaging compositions. This course is grounded in the exploration and application of writing processes, inviting students to express themselves as they experiment with, reflect on, extend, and refine their writing.

The following are possible areas of focus in EFP Writing 10:

- Community-focused text—ideas include creating written work that relates to and/or contributes to local First Peoples communities (e.g., community performances, proposals, technical communications)
- Writing for advocacy—ideas include creating narrative, descriptive, persuasive, and opinion pieces, with attention to audience, purpose, and technique
- Writing for expression—ideas include creating slam poetry, oratory, rap, drama, song, or multimodal work related to First Peoples themes
- Exploration of First Peoples themes—ideas include contextualizing self in relation to community, expressing relationship to land, with consideration of issues such as cultural appropriation and inauthenticity

Suggested interdisciplinary links:

- Writing to challenge non-Indigenous historical narratives (Social Studies)
- Engaging in First Nations language revitalization projects (Languages)
- Publishing process and industry (Applied Design, Skills, and Technologies)
- Writing lyrics for songs (Music)
- Advertising writing accompanied by art/graphics (Visual Art; Applied Design, Skills, and Technologies)

BIG IDEAS

The exploration of text and story deepens understanding of one's identity, others, and the world.

Texts are socially, culturally, geographically, and historically constructed.

Self-representation through authentic First Peoples text is a means to foster justice.

First Peoples texts play a role within the process of Reconciliation.
