

BIG IDEAS

Listening and viewing with intent helps us acquire a new language.

Both verbal and non-verbal cues contribute meaning in language.

Reciprocal communication is possible using high-frequency words and patterns.

We can explore our identity through a new language.

Stories help us to acquire language.

Each culture has traditions and ways of celebrating.

Learning Standards

Curricular Competencies	Content
Students are expected to be able to do the following: Thinking and communicating <ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognize the relationships between pronunciation and meaningComprehend high-frequency vocabulary, and identify key information in slow, clear speech and other textsComprehend storiesUse language-learning strategiesInterpret non-verbal cues to increase understandingRespond to simple commands and instructionsParticipate in simple interactionsSeek clarification of meaningShare information using the presentation format best suited to their own and others' diverse abilities Personal and social awareness <ul style="list-style-type: none">Consider personal, shared, and others' experiences, perspectives, and worldviews through a cultural lensRecognize First Peoples perspectives and knowledge; other ways of knowing, and local cultural knowledge	Students are expected to know the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">Korean alphabetKorean phonemesstroke ordersyllable constructionlanguage formality and etiquettecommon, high-frequency vocabulary, sentence structures, and expressions, including:<ul style="list-style-type: none">simple questions and descriptionsbasic information and commandsFirst Peoples perspectives connecting language and culture, including oral histories, identity, and placeKorean works of artKorean communities in Canadacommon elements of Korean cultural festivals and celebrations

BIG IDEAS

Listening and viewing with intent helps us understand a message.

We can explore our identity through a new language.

Reciprocal communication is possible using high-frequency words and patterns.

Stories help us to acquire language and understand the world around us.

Learning about language from diverse communities helps us develop cultural awareness.

Learning Standards

Curricular Competencies	Content
Students are expected to be able to do the following: Thinking and communicating <ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognize the relationships between pronunciation, sounds, phonetic representation, Korean characters, and meaningIdentify key information in slow, clear speech and other textsComprehend storiesComprehend high-frequency words and patterns in slow, clear speech and other simple textsUse language-learning strategiesInterpret non-verbal cues to increase understandingRespond to questions, simple commands, and instructionsExchange ideas and information, both orally and in writingSeek clarification of meaning using common statements and questionsShare information using the presentation format best suited to their own and others' diverse abilities Personal and social awareness <ul style="list-style-type: none">Consider personal, shared, and others' experiences, perspectives, and worldviews through a cultural lensRecognize First Peoples perspectives and knowledge; other ways of knowing, and local cultural knowledge	Students are expected to know the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">Korean phonemesparticles (functional words)language formality and etiquettecommon, high-frequency vocabulary, sentence structures, and expressions, including:<ul style="list-style-type: none">types of questionsdescriptions of peoplehobbies and topics of interestcommon emotions and physical statesFirst Peoples perspectives connecting language and culture, including oral histories, identity, and placeKorean works of artcultural aspects of Korean communities in Canada and around the world

BIG IDEAS

Listening and viewing with intent helps us understand an increasing variety of messages.

We can explore identity and place through increased understanding of a new language.

Reciprocal interactions help us understand and acquire language.

Stories help us to acquire language and understand the world around us.

Knowing about diverse communities helps us develop cultural awareness.

Learning Standards

Curricular Competencies	Content
Students are expected to be able to do the following: Thinking and communicating <ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognize the relationships between pronunciation, sounds, phonetic representation, Korean characters, and meaningComprehend key information and supporting details in slow, clear speech and other textsComprehend meaning in storiesUse language-learning strategies to increase understandingUse pitch, accent, intonation, and tone to convey meaningFollow instructions to complete a task and respond to questionsExchange ideas and information, both orally and in writingSeek clarification of meaning using common statements and questionsShare information using the presentation format best suited to their own and others' diverse abilities Personal and social awareness <ul style="list-style-type: none">Identify, share, and compare linguistic and cultural information about Korean communitiesExamine personal, shared, and others' experiences, perspectives, and worldviews through a cultural lensRecognize First Peoples perspectives and knowledge; other ways of knowing, and local cultural knowledge	Students are expected to know the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">particles (functional words)language formality and etiquettecommon, high-frequency vocabulary, sentence structures, and expressions, including:<ul style="list-style-type: none">types of questionsinstructions and comparisonsdescriptions of peoplebasic particle usagecommon elements of storiesFirst Peoples perspectives connecting language and culture, including oral histories, identity, and placeKorean works of artcultural aspects of Korean communities in Canada and around the world

BIG IDEAS

Listening and viewing with intent supports our acquisition and understanding of a new language.

We can express ourselves and talk about the world around us in a new language.

With increased fluency, we can participate actively in reciprocal interactions.

We can share our experiences and perspectives through stories.

Creative works are an expression of language and culture.

Acquiring a new language and learning about another culture deepens our understanding of our own language and culture.

Learning Standards

Curricular Competencies	Content
Students are expected to be able to do the following: Thinking and communicating <ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognize the relationships between pronunciation, sounds, phonetic representation, Korean characters, and meaningComprehend key information and supporting details in speech and other textsComprehend meaning in storiesUse various strategies to increase understanding and produce oral and written languageNarrate stories, both orally and in writingExchange ideas and information, both orally and in writingSeek clarification and verify meaningShare information using the presentation format best suited to their own and others' diverse abilities Personal and social awareness <ul style="list-style-type: none">Review similarities and differences between their own cultural practices and traditions and those of Korean communitiesEngage in experiences with Korean people and communitiesExamine personal, shared, and others' experiences, perspectives, and worldviews through a cultural lensRecognize First Peoples perspectives and knowledge; other ways of knowing, and local cultural knowledge	Students are expected to know the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">particles (functional words)language formality and etiquettecommon, high-frequency vocabulary, sentence structures, and expressions, including:<ul style="list-style-type: none">types of questionstime and frequencypreferences, emotions, and physical statesbeliefs and opinionspast, present, and future time framescommon elements of storiesFirst Peoples perspectives connecting language and culture, including oral histories, identity, and placeKorean works of artcultural aspects of Korean communities around the world

BIG IDEAS

Listening and viewing with intent supports our acquisition and understanding of a new language.

Acquiring a new language allows us to explore our identity and culture from a new perspective.

Conversing about things we care about can motivate our learning of a new language.

We can share our experiences and perspectives through stories.

Creative works allow us to experience culture and appreciate cultural diversity.

Learning Standards

Curricular Competencies	Content
Students are expected to be able to do the following: Thinking and communicating <ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognize the relationships between pronunciation, sounds, phonetic representation, Korean characters, and meaningDerive meaning from speech and a variety of other textsComprehend meaning in storiesUse various strategies to increase understanding and produce oral and written languageNarrate stories, both orally and in writingParticipate in short and simple conversationsExchange ideas and information, both orally and in writingSeek clarification and verify meaningShare information using the presentation format best suited to their own and others' diverse abilities Personal and social awareness <ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognize the importance of story in personal, family, and community identityAnalyze similarities and differences between their own cultural practices and traditions and those of Korean communitiesEngage in experiences with Korean people and communitiesExamine personal, shared, and others' experiences, perspectives, and worldviews through a cultural lensRecognize First Peoples perspectives and knowledge; other ways of knowing, and local cultural knowledge	Students are expected to know the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">particles (functional words)language formality and etiquettevocabulary, sentence structures, and common expressions, including:<ul style="list-style-type: none">types of questionsdescriptions of people, objects, and locationssequence of eventspersonal interests, needs and opinionspast, present, and future time frameselements of common textscommon elements of storiesFirst Peoples perspectives connecting language and culture, including oral histories, identity, and placeKorean works of artcultural practices in various Korean communitiesethics of cultural appropriation and plagiarism

BIG IDEAS

Listening and viewing with intent supports our acquisition and understanding of a new language.

Stories give us unique ways to understand and reflect on meaning.

Expressing ourselves and engaging in conversation in a new language require courage, risk taking, and perseverance.

Cultural expression can take many forms.

Acquiring a new language provides a unique opportunity to access and interact with diverse communities.

Learning Standards

Curricular Competencies	Content
Students are expected to be able to do the following: Thinking and communicating <ul style="list-style-type: none">Recognize how choice of words affects meaningComprehend key information and supporting details in speech and a variety of other textsComprehend meaning and viewpoints in storiesUse various strategies to increase understanding and produce oral and written languageNarrate stories, both orally and in writingInterpret non-verbal cues to increase understandingExchange ideas and information, both orally and in writingShare information using the presentation format best suited to their own and others' diverse abilitiesRespond to questions and instructionsSeek clarification and verify meaning Personal and social awareness <ul style="list-style-type: none">Investigate regional cultural and linguistic practices, and describe their role in shaping cultural identityEngage in experiences with Korean people and communitiesIdentify and share information about Korean communities in CanadaAnalyze personal, shared, and others' experiences, perspectives, and worldviews through a cultural lensRecognize First Peoples perspectives and knowledge; other ways of knowing, and local cultural knowledge	Students are expected to know the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none">vocabulary, sentence structures, and expressions, including:<ul style="list-style-type: none">types of questionsactivities, situations, and eventsexpression of opinionslanguage formality and etiquetteFirst Peoples perspectives connecting language and culture, including oral histories, identity, and placepast, present, and future time frameselements of common textscommon elements of storiesKorean works of artdialects and variations from different regions of Koreacommon expressions in Koreancontributions of Korean Canadians to societyethics of cultural appropriation and plagiarism